

כל העולם כולו-Kol HaOlam Kulo

Source Sheet by Alex Hamilton

The whole entire world is a very narrow bridge, and the important thing is not to fear at all.

כָּל הָעוֹלָם כֵּלּוֹ גֶּשֶׁר צָר מְאֹד
וְהַעֵיָקָר לֹא לִפְחֹד כָּלֵל

Words to Know

Commentary

This is an adaptation of Rabbi Nachman of Breslov's work Likutei Mohoran. Rabbi Nachman was a great master of Hassidic thought. He lived in Ukraine in the middle of the 1800's. This song is sung by millions of Jews around the world.

Discussion Question

Is having no fear a good thing? Are there things you should be afraid of?
